The War Today...

CAPTURE OF CHERBOURG now dependent on how many German troops can be brought to the beachhead—on the establishment of a continental base from which to start for Germany.

That means a concentration which quite possibly would need to occupy all northwestern France, including the Brittany peninsula (Brest) from Loire (St. Nazaire) to the present beachhead, and Le Havre which commands the Seine basin.

Otherwise, there seems to be little chance for the Allied southern flank as it turns for the advance into France. Hitler went through northern France in 1940 without regard for French threats on his southern flank. But, while his army may be the one to disintegrate this time, Allied commanders may not want to chance it.

There could be many reasons for recent bombings of Avranches, La Val, Rennes, Brest, and Nantes, but designs on the Brittany peninsula would be a good one.

For purposes of surprise, the Allies did the illogical in landing. As someone put it, they selected an area where nobody could establish a successful beachhead, and they did it. But when preparing for battles on a large scale—presumably more than a million men will be on each side when the campaign really gets going—Terrain cannot be ignored.

The Loire and the Seine are quite logical flanks for a drive toward Paris.

Of course the location of the present beachhead is the only indication we have that the drive will be toward Paris. The Allies still have plenty for a new landing around Calais and an ultimate campaign across the traditional battlefields of northern France and Belgium. But the enemy is much more concentrated and highly prepared there. His rocket bomb emplacements indicate that, since his use of them when landings in the area failed to materialize, he had been saving them for defense of the present none-too-important offense.

Both areas meet the requirement of General Eisenhower, whose only word of his plans is that he wants to get at the enemy. From this distance it appears a 200-mile front from the Seine to St. Nazaire would let us at just as many of Hitler's legions as would the more heavily fortified north.

It's too early to tell what has happened or is happening in the far Pacific, but there's something very special in the tone of Admiral Nimitz's voice today.

NIMITZ HINTS OF BIG NAVAL BATTLE SOON

U. S. Japanese Fleets In Position For Historic Clash In Pacific

(By Associated Press)
U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, June 21.—Giant battle fleets of the United States and Japan faced each other today in the 1,500 miles between the Philippines and Marianas amid indications that preliminary blows already may have opened a history-shaking naval engagement.

Possibly the entire Japanese fleet has entered the area, Adm. Chester M. Nimitz disclosed. It was the first report on the whereabouts of the long-sought navy of Nippon since its crushing defeat at Midway in June, 1942.

Eager and ready for battle is the Fifth U. S. fleet with "enough muscle . . . to take care of everything" in the words of the confident commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet.

(London picked up a Tokyo broadcast saying a fierce naval engagement was raging today off the Marianas. There was no confirmation from Pearl Harbor and no indication when Adm. Nimitz might have more to say about the operations.)

A Japanese naval spokesman was quoted in a Berlin broadcast today as saying Nippon's air and naval forces "have successfully engaged an American fleet" but Tokyo radio in another broadcast to the homeland quoted an Imperial headquarters communiqué as acknowledging "we have suffered considerable losses of ships and planes."

On the embattled Saipan, in the Marianas, 1,500 miles southeast of Tokyo, the Yanks called on planes, artillery and guns of warships to help crack bitter resistance of an estimated 20,000 Japanese. A Nimitz communiqué last night reported.

To the south of Saipan, enemy airfields on Tinian were shelled by warships and bombed by planes.

What may prove to have been the first preliminary blow of a showdown naval fight was struck Sunday from enemy aircraft carriers. Their planes, flying from the direction of the Philippines by way of Guam and Rota in the Marianas, paid a frightful cost of 300 aircraft in trying unsuccessfully to sink U. S. carriers and battleships of the invasion fleet. Last night, Nimitz told a press conference that not one combat ship was sunk.

Then the admiral issued an electrifying hint that the enemy blow was paid back with success Monday. He said cryptically it was possible that damage was inflicted on elements of the enemy fleet that day.

"We hope the Jap fleet will stay in that (Philippines) area," he said. "As long as they stay, we have a chance to get at them."

Dinner Program Follows Golf for Rotary Members

Dinner in the club house Tuesday evening followed a round of golf for Rotarians who met at the Salem Golf club in place of their weekly meeting in the Memoria building.

C. Carr, who arranged the party, told of some of the activities on the course during the brief program after dinner. Talks were given by Sgt. Donald Althouse, member of the Rotary club until he entered the service, and by Ensign Ward Eckstein.

Althouse is home on furlough from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., until the end of the month. Eckstein is back from Navy air gunnery training in Florida and will leave soon for his assignment to San Francisco.

President J. B. Martin, who is completing a year's service as head of the club, turned the office over to Dr. F. R. Crowe, the new president, who begins his duties next Tuesday.

Admiral Expresses Confidence In Navy To Whip Japs' Fleet

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 21.—Admiral Ernest J. King, Navy commander-in-chief, expressing appreciation for the "long expected cooperation" of the Japanese navy in apparently moving into battle position, expressed confidence today in the outcome of a prospective naval engagement in the Western Pacific.

The sooner the Japanese fleet fights, the better will be satisfied, King said.

He made his statement after Navy Secretary Forrestal had reported that despite strict radio silence from the Pacific there have been some indications that American forces "may have succeeded in catching up with all or a part of the Japanese fleet yesterday."

Forrestal added that there is, however, "no definite information" as to the prospective engagement.

He based his comment upon a statement yesterday by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific fleet commander in chief, who reported the Japanese fleet had been located in the waters east of the Philippine Islands.

349 Pints Of Blood Obtained Here By Red Cross Mobile Unit

Public response to the call for blood donors for the second day of the Cleveland mobile unit's visit here yesterday brought 252 volunteers, 25 of whom had to be turned away because facilities for storing and transporting the blood were exhausted. Red Cross officials said today.

One hundred and eighty were accepted, bringing the two-day total to 349 pints.

Marine Staff Sgt. Mary Shriver, home on furlough from Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C., was the only member of the armed forces to donate.

Volunteers represented 12 towns in the vicinity, including Salem, Leontonia, Columbiana, Lisbon, Damascus, Washingtonville, Canfield, Kensington, Nesley, Hanoverton, Salineville, and New Waterford. Donors included three 16-time, two nine-time and 16 eight-time or "gallon club" givers. There were 14 who made their seventh donation and 15 who gave their sixth pint.

The group included: Husbands and wives, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew

Council O.K.'s Police Radio, Rejects New Cruiser Purchase

City council last night adopted a resolution authorizing Service Director Frank K. Wilson to advertise for bids to equip the police department with a two-way frequency modulation radio set and later turned down, by a 4-3 vote, a resolution authorizing receipt of bids for a new police cruiser.

The radio equipment, which will provide station to car and car to station communications, was explained to council by J. K. Young, radio-engineer from Warren, who is in charge of maintenance of such equipment in cities of this district. The present set is worn out.

Council moved to purchase the set in order to make use of an AA-3 priority granted them by the War Production board before it becomes invalid. The approximate cost of the set is $1,700.

A lengthy discussion followed a proposal by Councilman H. W. Pealy to advertise for bids for a new police cruiser. Pealy said the present automobile was unsatisfactory and was endangering the safety of members of the police force as long as it was in use. He urged immediate action by council to purchase a new vehicle and said bonds should be issued to raise the money, if necessary.

Councilman Arch Wentz countered with the opinion that the city body should wait until they were sure enough funds would be available from current tax collections to cover the purchase, along with other expenses, and said that under no circumstances would he approve extending the city's bonded indebtedness to purchase a new car at this time.

After similar opinions from Arthur Hantia and Fred A. Shaffer, a vote was taken and the motion was defeated by a vote of four to three. Harry Vincent, Charles Rheutan and Pealy voted for the plan.

Council accepted the mayor's monthly report showing an income of $372.60. Building permits netted $7, licenses $57, city fines $140, state patrol cases $135 and city costs $33.60.

The next meeting was set for July 5, one day later than usual, because of the holiday on the regular meeting night.

G.O.P. LEADERS MAP PLATFORM

Start Drafting of Policy; Bricker Backers Continue Optimism

(By Associated Press)
Republican leaders at Chicago started work today on drafting a platform designed to help the campaign to put their candidate in the White House—a candidate the party chairman says will be named by next Wednesday.

That is the third day of the party's national convention which starts Monday; Chairman Harrison E. Spangler settled on it in a prediction there will be no balloting deadlock.

From the various campaign headquarters of presidential possibilities, meanwhile, there continued to flow expressions of praise for their men.

Roy D. Moore, for Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio, said "the responsible leaders of the Dewey forces are, as convention time nears, retreating from, what Moore called fantastic claims."

3 Days Were Required To Bury Jap Dead After Hill 700 Stand

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, June 21.—Three days were required to bury the bodies of dead Japanese after their suicidal attack on American positions on Hill 700 on Bougainville last March, reports Lieut. Col. Ernest E. Root, commander of an infantry battalion of the 145th Infantry regiment of Ohio's 37th Division.

"We took no prisoners during the action," Col. Root told an interviewer. "One Jap was cornered and when ordered to surrender held a hand grenade to his chest and was blown apart."

"It took three days of steady work to bury all of the dead Nips. We found 406 bodies in an area 50 yards wide and 100 yards long."

The officer, who was awarded the Legion of Merit for his part in taking Munda airdrome on New Georgia island last summer, is visiting his nearby Berea, O., home before being reassigned. He gave this account of the bloody battle on Bougainville.

"The Nips attacked us on the morning of March 9 in great strength. They came up the slope of the hill

Engage Nazis Within 1 Mile Of Big Docks

BULLETIN
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 21.—The fall of Cherbourg appeared today to be matter of hours. U. S. troops have captured Acqueville and Tearthville Hague on the western tip of Cherbourg peninsula.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 21.—U. S. doughboys supported by heavy artillery and air bombardment today assaulted two key inner fortresses guarding Cherbourg—one less than a mile from the commercial docks—and fought house-to-house through the city's suburbs.

(An NBC broadcast from Normandy declared "our ground forces are moving into Cherbourg.")

The power drive from the south hammered against Fort Du Roule, on a hill at Cherbourg's outskirts and within a mile of the docks, and Fort Octeville, a little more than a mile to the west.

Cherbourg's great military port area, now exploding under German demolitions, lies only two miles behind Fort Octeville.

The Germans were making a last ditch stand in these inner ring fortresses.

Heavy fighting was reported in the built-up suburban section of France's third greatest port.

The assault upon the forts raged forward from St. Martin Le-Greard, four miles south of Cherbourg, and advance units on the western flank drove to Acqueville, three to four miles west and slightly south of Cherbourg's city limits.

Fort Du Roule, a major key to control of the besieged German stronghold, stands atop a 450-foot hill.

The French worked for more than a century building up Cherbourg's forts and defenses and the Germans now are making a last stand in the inner ring—which embraces part of the city itself.

Hurried Demolitions
Smoke hung over the city as the trapped German defenders carried out hurried demolitions in the strategic harbor, now in plain view of the attacking American troops coming out of the hills surrounding the objective.

German defenses have stiffened and there are indications the Nazi high command has ordered a house-to-house fight by some 25,000 to 50,000 Germans now left with virtually no chance of escape. Allied broadcasts last night urged trapped garrison to surrender.

Although the three main roads to Cherbourg from the south run into one main highway bottleneck just outside the city, the American troops apparently were closing in from three sides—south, west and east.

Communique No. 31 from Supreme headquarters this morning announced that the towns of Valognes, Les Pieux, Couville and Raville La Bieue were in Allied hands, but the distance American line runs some distance beyond these points.

File Complaints On Reappraisal Early, Is Auditor's Advice

LISBON, June 20.—County Auditor Irvin J. Vorndran announced today that complaints on the new valuations of county real estate should be filed with his office as soon as possible.

In explaining the tax setup regarding payment of tax, he said Ohio tax laws provide that real property shall be assessed "at its true value in money" and that accounts for the periodic reappraisals. The recent reappraisal was the first complete appraisal in Columbiana county since 1931.

The State Department of Taxation ordered the reappraisal for the purpose of bringing valuations more nearly into line with current true values, and every effort has been made to equalize one property with another.

However, Auditor Vorndran, added, property owners who feel that the present assessed value of their real estate is in excess of true value should file a complaint sheet showing the amount they consider it should be reduced and giving their reasons.

The mere fact that the new valuation is greater than that previously assessed is not, in itself, just cause for complaint and that to avoid penalty, taxes should be paid under protest pending action by the county board of revision, the auditor said.

Van Dyke Wins Parole
Gilbert Van Dyke, sentenced from Columbiana county on a charge of auto theft, will be paroled from the Ohio penitentiary, July 21. It was announced today by the Ohio Pardon and Parole commission in Columbus.

WHAT ARE WE WAITING FOR?

The Fifth War Loan drive now in its second week should not require any urging. The quota should be filled in less time than it took for any of the four campaigns preceding it. The long-awaited invasion of Hitler's fortress has provided a natural impetus. It ought not to be necessary to furnish anything but the communiques from Europe to see this drive through to victory.

But for some unaccountable reason there is less enthusiasm and apparently less desire to make the purchase of bonds early than shown in other drives. This Fifth Loan drive is lagging in Salem and in other parts of the county. What are we waiting for?

If daily reports of continued successes of the invasion forces in Normandy are not enough go to the State theater tonight and see the official pictures of the beginning of that invasion, of the actual landing of troops, the bombings of communication centers and ammunition depots, the fallen heroes, the liberation of French towns, the forward march of our own fighting forces. These ought to be appeal enough. They say more than can possibly be said on this side of the ocean.

Here at home we are asked for nothing more than dollars, time, extra work, some sacrifice of pleasure. Over there, young men who have just begun to live are asked to give themselves. Some of them are giving their lives. Others are giving the chance ever to live completely again.

And what are we waiting for?

Do we have to be coaxed and urged into being half-way as good as our soldiers? Or will we respond to our country's call just as eagerly and as fully as though we were setting out from England across the channel?

Salem's quota in the Fifth War Loan drive must and will be filled. Let's get the job over as quickly as possible.

MORALE WEAPONS

The Germans plainly have devised a morale weapon in their flying rocket bombs. They are using it for all it is worth against the British and trying to start a jitter epidemic on our own Atlantic coast with planted reports that bigger bombs will be sent across the ocean. But the weapon isn't worth much.

According to what is known about the bombs, they are solely for the use to which they are being put—the spreading of terror among British civilians by indiscriminate destruction. The Germans, having lost the power to carry out heavy air raids, are reduced to the awkward technique of horizontal bombing. The only important difference between their rocket bombs and ordinary shellfire is the greater range of the bombs, but the very fact of the range makes accurate aiming impossible. Inaccuracy, in turn, makes the bombs more destructive of civilian morale than they would be if the Germans had some specific target in mind.

The effect cannot compare with that of the vertical bombing of British cities by massed fleets of airplanes. It is feeble retaliation for the saturation raids which were developed as retaliation for Germany's earlier attempts to do the same thing. Once more the Germans have hopefully turned to terror to start something that someone else can do better. Don't let Goebbels, but rocket bombs at this moment are being lobbed in the general direction of Germany from points as far west as Kansas City and when they land he will never even know what hit him.

PSYCHOLOGY OF DEFEAT

The course of wisdom in wartime is always to over-estimate the enemy. That is one of the secrets of successful generalship, and it is a good policy for civilians.

But respect for the enemy's ability does not preclude attention to circumstances which impair his ability—such circumstances as the psychology of defeat now undermining Germany. It may well prove to be the most potent force now undermining German strength, when events can be viewed by hindsight.

The Germans never have risen to their heights from the underdog position. They do their best fighting when they are sure of victory. They find it difficult to adjust themselves to the inevitability of defeat. They are slow to admit even obvious facts, but once they have admitted them are quick to respond to the new evidence. These have been their characteristics in two wars—characteristics which make them vulnerable to the psychology of defeat.

Anyone discounting too heavily the impact on all Germans of defeat in Russia, Italy, in the air, on the oceans and now in the Cherbourg peninsula is ignoring the probabilities of psychology. Even if Germans were only remotely susceptible to evidence that they are fighting for a lost cause, there is too much evidence on hand at the moment to be ignored.

For Thursday, June 22

A RATHER mediocre state of affairs is the interpretation of the predominant lunar aspects. There is fair promise of sustained success through routine attention to affairs in hand, whether this be in relation to business, writings, finance, travel, advertising or other usual activities, in social good times. Shun extravagance or any form of over-indulgence. With prudence and well planned propositions there might be a public association.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a rather routine year, in which the customary trend of events may prove constructive, if not lively and pleasant. There may be a tendency to center on the social or domestic enjoyments which should be happy and fairly profitable, provided there is no extravagance or over-indulgence. With serious ideas in mind there might be some sort of public or community emolument. Refrain from unconventional or over-bold adventure.

A child born on this day may have fair abilities for success and happiness and with ambition might reach some degree of public or community recognition.

Our Thinking People

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—After spending a month traveling around the country, most of it through scenes and among people I had known and worked with before, I think that among the most important aspects of changing America are the new thought patterns being brought back by the men and women who have fought and bled on the global fronts of this war.

For the most part, they are a quiet, un-talking people. They are better versed on current events than most civilians and there's hardly a one now who can't name his congressman and tell you why he will or will not vote for him.

Almost unanimously they think that the end of the war (on both fronts) is a long time off and I've never talked to one yet who considers any of our enemies a "soft touch," regardless of whether the question is numerical strength, fighting ability, or efficiency of equipment.

They are almost unanimously bitter against labor strikes in war plants for any reason; but hold no brief for a recalcitrant management that is selfishly seeking excessive profits. They are almost supremely confident that when all the boys get back, the selfish in all fields of war endeavor will be punished by one method or another, although almost none talks in terms of physical violence.

They're very much concerned about their respective places in a postwar domestic economy but I've never run across one who wants more than a little place in the sun comparable to the one he or his neighbors held with security before Pearl Harbor.

They consider postwar world collaboration to maintain peace such an inevitability that it isn't even a topic for debate.

These are new patterns of thought. They are the results of broader horizons and greater depths of pain and sacrifice applied to everyday living. They aren't exceptions. They are the rule.

These men are such fellows as lieutenant commander who has had three destroyers shot from under him, including one as long ago as the Battle of Coral Sea; as a commander who skips a submarine; as an ordnance captain who is shaking apart with the after effects of malaria; as an Army nurse who has ministered to hundreds of suffering youngsters flown out of the blood spattered islands of the South Pacific; as a captain who carried a load of shrapnel and seven bullets out of Italy; as a seabee from the Solomons; and dozens of pfc's and corporals and sergeants and seamen.

Many never had been more than ten miles from their front door before they were inducted. Most of them just want to get back there, but not to pick up mentally and socially and politically just where they left off. They've got ideas now and the problem for the United States and its economists and politicians will be to catch up with them.

America will be the only nation to emerge from the war unscarred.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president Columbia University.

Every stout boy born in 1943 can become a brave soldier in 1963.—German high command instruction manual.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Infants Skin Irritations

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
THE BABY'S SKIN should be thoroughly cleansed, dried and powdered before putting on the clean diaper. And even then napkin area rashes or diaper rashes may occur. Many mothers assume that these are all of the same kind and primarily due to the reaction of the baby's delicate skin to filth but while this is the primary factor in most instances, there are several other kinds of diaper rash and each requires its own form of treatment.

Dr. Clending will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The simple form is a mild inflammatory reaction of the skin to either ammoniacal or acid discharge. It is an irritation, not an infection. There is no break in the skin and the redness and itching are the result of an irritative process showing in the response of the blood vessels (redness) and nerve endings (itching) of the skin. Nearly every baby reared in a state of civilization experiences some degree, mild to severe, of this condition.

The treatment and prevention of this relatively simple form of dermatitis is common sense selection, care and washing of the diapers. There is no rule about how often diapers should be changed and diarrhea in this area which does not respond to the measures of cleanliness, soothing lotions and pus-germ antiseptics, it is proper to suspect ringworm as the causative factor.

Rash On Baby's Heels

A perfectly natural complication of any of these conditions is that the rash may appear on the baby's heels. Natural because the baby's kickings whilst lying on its back during changing time bring the heels into contact with the infected surface.

pending on changing conditions and the state of irritation of the young hopeful's behind the ritual of changing and cleansing should be observed as often as indicated. The soiled napkins should be washed in soap and water (not washing soda) and then soaked in a mild antiseptic solution (saturated boric acid) and rinsed and dried thoroughly.

Treatment for Impetigo

But complications may occur to this simple irritative dermatitis. The skin may become macerated and broken and germs get in, causing impetigo, as the pustular eruptions of the skin are called in technical language. This may take the form of discrete abscesses or ulcers, or may be a pretty diffuse infiltration of the skin with pustular secretion and debris formation. The treatment here is by the application of some germicidal agent such as 2 per cent silver nitrate solution or ammoniated mercury ointment, or, nowadays I suppose, the most popular is some form of sulfu drug ointment. If silver nitrate is used the application should be followed by a soothing ointment such as zinc oxide.

Yeast and ringworm infections are others that may superimpose themselves on the simple napkin dermatitis. Here the use of Whitfield's ointment is naturally indicated. In fact, in any stubborn skin another form which resists stubbornly all the ordinary methods of treatment outlined above is scabies, or itch. It is due to the entrance of the itch mite into the skin. In infants, in fact, this part of the skin is the site of election for the infestation of the itch mite; in adults, of course, it is the web between the fingers. Once the diagnosis is established the treatment should be by balsam of Peru, because very young children do not react well to sulphur, which is the standard drug for the treatment of scabies in adults. However, it may be used if results are not obtained by other methods.

A Model is Murdered ~ BABS LEE

CHAPTER FORTY-TWO

Argus Steele was leaning against the bar in the Penguin Club sipping a scotch and soda when a tall, dark-haired girl entered. As she paused to look around he was reminded, for a fleeting second, of Syria Verne. He sighed and turned away. When Ellen arrived she found him staring into his glass.

"There are still a lot of things I want to know about the murder of Syria," said Ellen. "I haven't had a chance to talk to you all day, what with reporters and police and other people around."

Argus smiled. "Ask away, Red-head."

"How did you first come to suspect Roger Flagg?"

"There were several things: When I discovered that gun mounted in the air-conditioning machine and how it worked, I began to weed out possible suspects. I began to suspect Roger Flagg."

"If Dancer had wanted Syria out of the way, he probably would have had her off in approved gangster fashion. Mabel and Dorcy didn't strike me as being mechanically minded and I couldn't bring myself to believe that either one had hired some inventor to do the whole job."

"Well, how about Pierre?" Ellen asked.

"I discounted Sturgis all along because, if he were Redbeard, why should he go to the trouble of disguising himself when he never could completely disguise the one tell-tale thing about himself—namely, his limp? So it seemed to me that our murderer was purposely trying to throw suspicion on Sturgis by adopting a limp, along with the beard and glasses."

"I suppose you figured later that the fellow who was most apt to be jealous of Pierre would be likely to divert suspicion his way," Ellen suggested.

"Yes," said Argus, "and if Pierre had come up to the apartment with Syria and had answered the phone for her, it would have suited the murderer almost as well. So that narrowed my suspects down to the two: Carstairs and Roger Flagg who, incidentally, didn't realize that Carstairs, St. was financing Syria. All of his suspicions fell on poor Pierre, who had also lost out."

"Well," remarked Ellen, "I thought that Carstairs, Sr., had done it."

"I eliminated both of the Carstairs when I discovered the telephone tester's signal gag. Each had tried to phone Syria on Monday night. Would they have done that if either of them had set the machine and started the phone ringing?"

"I see what you mean," said Ellen. "So that just leaves Roger Flagg."

"Unless the crime had been committed by some one entirely unsuspected," the detective declared. "But then when Grange discovered Redbeard's hideout on Third Avenue yesterday, I saw that something was missing—"

"The body?" asked Ellen.

"No, my pet. Ashes, ashtrays, cigarette butts, tobacco."

"But maybe the murderer had cleaned up so you wouldn't find anything like that. He didn't leave any fingerprints, so why should he leave old cigarette butts?"

"That's true," said Argus, "but there weren't even any ashes or tobacco grounds in the dust findings in the room or in the pockets of the overcoat we found. What does a person do if he's working on something for a long period of time without relaxation? If he smokes, he lights a cigarette—or a cigar or pipe. This murderer hadn't. Who among the suspects didn't smoke? Roger Flagg was the only one."

"But—but—"

"Add to this the bits of broken glass from his watch crystal and—"

"How did you know it was Roger's?"

"Remember the day we lunched at the Penguin Club with Flagg and you said you'd run into him coming out of a jewelry store on Madison Avenue?"

"Yes."

"Well, I found that store and discovered that Flagg had brought his watch in on Tuesday morning to get a new crystal. I had them examine the slivers of glass we found in Redbeard's hideout and they confirmed that it was of exactly the same thickness as the new crystal they sold him."

"But where could Roger have learned to make such an intricate murder machine?" Ellen asked.

"He had had electrical training," Argus explained. "He told us he'd been to a technical school. But he didn't tell us, of course, that he'd worked for a telephone company, installing phones during summer vacation from college. I got that yesterday through a personal reporting service."

"How did you ever guess about Flagg's relationship with Syria?"

"I knew he'd built her up in the modeling business. You told me about Syria's mysterious week-ends in the country. Then when we found Redbeard's hideout, I guessed that he and Flagg were one and the same. This was confirmed when I came across a piece of a New Jersey newspaper with a name-sticker in one corner," Argus explained in detail about his deductions from the torn sticker. "Grange investigated," he said, "and discovered that Syria and Roger Flagg had used the place in the country for week-end rendezvous."

"Why was it a mistake for Flagg to get blood on that letter?" Ellen asked, "and how in the world did you know he wasn't shot in Pierre's studio?"

"Well," said Argus, "if Flagg thought Pierre held evidence against him, it was practically an admission of guilt when he searched his papers. If the papers had been messed up by some one else, why would one of the letters have had Flagg's blood on it? As for the other, there was too much blood on the handkerchief that bound Flagg's wound for a person who had just been shot. I figured then that he must've been bleeding for some time. Why, then, hadn't he called the police or a doctor, with the phone right beside him? It suddenly struck me that perhaps Flagg had been shot someplace else and had come to the studio afterwards."

"Any Cynthia Lane? You guessed that she had seen Roger coming out of Syria's apartment, because of the paint on her coat that matched the paint in Syria's foyer—is that it?"

"Right," Argus agreed, "the most important thing, however, was that Roger saw her, and didn't dare

Amazing results in building STURDY BODIES!

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach
2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

YOUNG people, especially those of grammar and high school age, are prone to be deficient in stomach digestive juices and red-blood.

A growing person who is operating on a 65 to 70% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped. In such cases Nature needs extra help. Organic troubles or focal infection, if they exist, must be corrected. Tissue foods must be digested and rich, red-blood must be present to build sturdy bodies. SSS Tonic is especially designed (1) to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach which digest the food so the body can make proper use of it in tissue building and repair and (2) to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient.

These two important results enable the body to make use of the food as Nature intended. Thus you may gain a keen appetite, a firm flesh, a body energy, a mental alertness!

Build Sturdy Health and Help America Win

Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits SSS Tonic has brought to them and scientific research shows that it gets results—that's why so many say "SSS Tonic builds sturdy health—makes you feel like yourself again." At drug stores in 10 and 20 oz. sizes. U.S.S. Co.

YOUNG WARDROBES NEED DOUBLE DUTY DRESSES

Date dresses which can double for daytime fun and through the long twilight into dinner dates, are the most important item of the young wardrobe. Girls want to look as pretty as possible while their beaux are briefly furloughed, but must be careful to avoid extravagance in appearance. The trio of dresses above are all rayon, simple in design, and with summery accessories are provocative and individual. The jacket and skirt of white sharkskin, left, are worn with a rayon tow blouse, the material of which resembles worsted jersey. The surplice frock of printed shantung is correct for church, restaurant dining or tea dates. The motif is Chinese. The one-piece spectator sports frock, right, can be dressed up for formal dates with proper accessories, or worn for beach and cabana by suitable ones. It is made of tricot knit rayon. The belt section is of contrasting vivid color. (International)

Protest Car Ceilings

CHICAGO, June 21.—The National Automobile Dealers' association has asked the Office of Price Administration to revise its recent order fixing ceiling prices on used cars.

Ray Chamberlain of Washington, D. C., executive vice president of the association, said today the dealers had asked an increase of the allowable dealer markup from 25 to 33 1/3 per cent and that, to prevent a black market, dealers be defined as those regularly engaged in buying and selling automobiles. The association also asked regulation flexible enough to meet changing conditions.

PEARL HARBOR RAID UNPROVOKED—HULL

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Secretary of State Hull wants it known that, regardless of what the British production minister, Oliver Lyttelton, may have said about America's pre-war policy, this country was following "the single policy of self defense."

The case at issue arose from a Tuesday speech before the American chamber of commerce in London in which some of Lyttelton's hearers understood him to say that the United States had aided Great Britain prior to Pearl Harbor out of sympathy and had provoked Japan to war.

Subsequently, Lyttelton said he had described the Japanese as considering American policy as war-provoking only because they chose to do so in their aggressive role.

Secretary Hull, in a public statement issued last night several hours after Lyttelton's explanation, declared the British minister was "entirely in error" and said Pearl Harbor was "unprovoked."

Hull's statement took no notice of Lyttelton's later remark, which referred appreciatively to American aid to Britain before Pearl Harbor.

Mrs. Yarian has spent 15 years in collecting these Iris, of which there are 450 specimens and 35 name varieties.

The garden is located one and one-half miles west on Route 7 from Middleton or one and one-half miles southeast of Fairfield centralized school.

SOME ARE HIT--AND KILLED--BUT ALLIES LAND

INVASION OF FRANCE was not just a boat ride and a happy landing. Take a good look at this dramatic picture. It tells the story of the invasion, too, as do the others of Allied soldiers leaping ashore from assault boats without too much enemy resistance. These are British troops coming ashore under a withering fire from the enemy. Some are hit. Some are being aided by their gallant buddies. Some are face down in the sand. The photographer, too, risked his life to snap this picture. (International)

COLUMBUS—A Cub scout, skilled in the art of tying knots, volunteered with 15 pals from Roosevelt Junior High school to learn the art of knitting.

Silence prevailed as the boys struggled with the needles and yarn, then triumphantly the Cub scout shouted the key to success: "Hey, you guys, it's nothing but a double half hitch!"

IRONTON—Mrs. Hazel Staten, 47, of Coal Grove, Lawrence county, has five sons serving overseas—and she's a riveter in a war plant.

CLEVELAND—Dr. Z. W. Wicks and his wife, Susan Donberg Wicks, visited a cocktail lounge after nearly three years' absence from Cleveland.

"I'm sorry," the waiter said to Mrs. Wicks. "We don't serve minors here. You'll have to show me your birth certificate."

But Mrs. Wicks had been too busy heading a research laboratory, teaching at the University of Illinois and raising a four-year old son to bother carrying a birth certificate. She drank soda-pop.

TOLEDO—In answer to an inquiring reporter's question, "seven girls to one man after the war, are you worried?" Wilma McLaughlin of Holgate, O., said:

"Not at all. I come from a small town, where there are usually plenty of available men. Men aren't as hard to catch in a small town, and once they're caught, it's easier to keep track of them."

ZANESVILLE—Each week a Zaneseville mother sends her small daughter to Sunday school with a nickel for the collection. The child marched home one Sunday, confessed to her mother that she liked to go to church. "But say," she added, "it's kind of expensive, isn't it?"

CLEVELAND—Traffic Cop Elmer Kaneki, an avowed bachelor, was on duty when Miss Catherine Bierfeldt rushed past on her way to work. Suddenly she turned her ankle and a heel fell off her shoe. Kaneki pounded the heel back in place with his club and the two smiled at each other.

Officer Kaneki no longer is a bachelor; Miss Bierfeldt's name is Mrs. Kaneki now.

News and Views, Briefly On What's Going On In Capital

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 21.—A compromise version of the bill to extend price controls was to go to the senate today, and later to the house for ratification. With major administration objections ironed out of it, the measure then would be sent to the White House for extension of the controls to June 30, 1945.

WHISKY
The senate liquor shortage committee today applauded WPB's decision to release alcohol for a month's whisky-making and at the same time renewed its plea for tighter controls on liquor distribution. Such a step is necessary, says the committee, to combat bootleggers and "black marketeers". The new WPB order will release alcohol to make from 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 gallons of 85-90 proof blended whisky in August—about a fourth of a normal year's supply.

MISCELLANY
Rep. Engel (R., Mich.)—Congress' one-man investigating committee—has toured explosives plants and says the power industry is one of the few costing taxpayers less per unit than in World War I. Efforts of southern legislators to knock out an appropriation for the President's Fair Employment Practices committee have been unsuccessful and the FEPC today has assurances of funds for continuation. . . . Despite the heavy bills of the recent months and a few still pending before Congress, this session will appropriate less money than any other since Pearl Harbor; but Rep. Cannon (D., Mo.) predicts that during the next fiscal year, spending from outstanding appropriations, probably will continue at the same pace as in previous war years. . . . Among the bills ready for swift congressional enactment is legislation to end upwards of $200,000,000,000 in war contracts. It is the first major measure for economic demobilization to reach the point of passage.

Twins Are Given Parole From Ohio Penitentiary

COLUMBUS, June 21.—The Ohio Pardon and Parole commission yesterday granted paroles, effective Sept. 12, to Dean and Donald Bowman, 25-year-old twins now serving sentences in the Ohio penitentiary for robbing a liquor store. They are the brothers of the notorious Neal Bowman who made a sensational Christmas day escape 11 years ago from the Lima hospital for the criminally insane and was executed for murder in the Kentucky penitentiary in 1936. Another brother, Howard Bowman, is now serving a life term for robbery.

The line starts north of Les Pieux, itself 10 miles southwest of the port, and straggles north to the Acqueville area near Flottenmanville Les Noes-Hague, a hamlet between Acqueville and Cherbourg—an area which at last available reports gave the closest approach to the port.

On the main road from Les Pieux to Cherbourg Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's veteran American troops have reached points four miles from the port. The line then swings toward the northeast coast, with the doughboys anywhere from four to six miles from the city at most points, and eventually hits the beach more than three miles north of Quineville.

Caen Area Is Quiet
Despite German reports the Supreme Allied command said it has no knowledge that Allied warships were shelling Cherbourg from the sea and declared such an attack was unlikely.

The port is protected by seven heavy coastal forts which should be much simpler to take by land assault than from the sea.

Only patrol activity was reported elsewhere on the Normandy beachhead except in the Tilly-Sur-Seuilles area.

The British announced capture of Cherbourg three and a half miles southwest of Tilly. At the same time the Germans launched three heavy counter-attacks on the newly-taken British stronghold of Hotot, two miles south of Tilly. The attacks were reported held, but the situation in the village itself was obscure.

The Caen area even farther to the east was quiet.

Theater

"In Our Time," starring Ida Lupino and Paul Henreid and showing at the State theater today and tomorrow, is a deeply moving love story with its setting in war-shrouded Poland. Miss Lupino plays a young English girl who marries a Polish count (Henreid) against his family's wishes. Against the hostility of his family the couple modernize the count's old family estate to make it pay.

Also showing at the State theater beginning today and continuing throughout the week are the first invasion pictures of the Allied landings in France. Bombing and strafing attacks on Nazi defenses, the action of paratroops and air-borne soldiers, and grim scenes of battle are included in the historic document.

Concluding at the Grand theater tonight is "You Can't Ration Love," featuring Betty Rhodes, Johnnie Johnston and Marjorie Weaver. Co-feature is "Monster Maker," with J. Carrol Naish and Ralph Morgan.

Public Warning!

BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

War-time living conditions may be the cause of spreading Pin-Worm infection. Scientific reports in many communities have shown at least one-third of the examined children and grown-ups to be victims of Pin-Worms—often without knowing what was wrong!

Watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself: the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch, the uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, nervous fidgeting, finicky appetite.

New Discovery Hailed By Doctors
After centuries of distress caused by Pin-Worms, a new and highly effective way to deal with this stubborn pest has recently been discovered. This scientific discovery, hailed by medical authorities, is a remarkable drug (gentian violet). It is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm treatment developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines. P-W tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to destroy the creatures. So don't take chances with Pin-Worms. At the first warning sign, ask your druggist for P-W, and follow the directions. P-W means Pin-Worm relief!

THE BONDS THAT HOLD Family Life Together

The "old man" likes to kind of relax in the evening, to get his shoes off, his slippers on. The fellows in the opposite political camp are suckers, saps and dupes, and there's a lot more goods on 'em in the evening paper he's going to enjoy.

But Ma, somehow she takes things easier, politically speaking. In the evening, she'll let the world's affairs take care of themselves while she muses and does a little plain and fancy knitting.

Brother, the big seventeen year old lug, can't let world affairs alone. He thinks he knows something about military campaigns, and you can't argue with him, because he's got books and Atlases to prove his points.

Now Sis, bless her dainty heart, can't keep romance out of her head, that is, the kind you read about. Ed gave her a big box of candy, which she munches while reading of somebody else's heart throbs.

George, the oldest son, is with the American forces in Ireland, the last time they heard from him, about two weeks ago.

What holds this family life together? Bonds of love, bonds of matrimony, bonds of mutual respect and tolerance? Yes, until recently. BUT NOW, IT'S WAR BONDS!

If you know of another way of saving the American way of life than by fighting for it, we'd like to hear about it. If you know of another way of keeping our army and navy supplied with munition than by using money, we'd like to hear about that, too.

Let's shell out more for shells—NOW. Let's come across handsomely for our armies across the seas — NOW!

As you love your family circle, as you love the American way of life, the laughing, disputing, crabbing, umpire baiting, pie eating American way of life, buy another war bond, over and above your regular purchases—NOW!

AND WHEN YOU NEED FURNITURE TO BRIGHTEN UP YOUR FAMILY CIRCLE, YOU'LL FIND US READY, AS USUAL, TO SERVE YOU.

MACKMEN LOOM AS BIG PROBLEM FOR ANY PENNANT TRY

Athletics May Not Win Title, But Will Have Big Say In Who Does

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
Connie Mack's Athletics haven't won a pennant since away back when, and they aren't hot choices this year, but there's a growing feeling they might have quite a bit to say about who emerges on top in the American loop's free-for-all.

Canny Mack's conglomeration served notice yesterday they are very much in the league. They were residing placidly in last place when Joe Cronin's spurring, second-place Red Sox came to town.

Keep Red Sox From First
When the smoke from the double header cleared away, the Mackmen had jumped to a sixth-place tie, and had spoiled Boston's chance of slipping into first place over the St. Louis Browns, who split a twin bill with Chicago's White Sox.

The A's needed 11 innings to beat Boston in the opener, 5 to 4. The second was easy, veteran Bobo Newsum allowed two hits for a 2 to 0 shutout.

The Browns stretched their lead to a game and a half by salvaging the second from Chicago, 5 to 0, after losing the 10-frame opener, 4 to 3. Al Hollingsworth won his first of the season in the nightcap.

New York Slugging
Hank Borowy came up with another good mound chore, a four-hitter, and the Yanks loosed a 10-blow barrage behind him, as the World Champs defeated Washington 3 to 1.

Cleveland beat Detroit, 3 to 1, but skidded into the cellar. Ray Mack, war worker, flew to Detroit for the twilight tilt and his ninth-inning fly sent the winning run home as Hard-Working Paul Trout weakened. Trout has pitched 26 1-3 frames in six days.

Bucky Walters copped his 11th win with a neat two-hitter against Pittsburgh's Pirates, the Cincinnati star adding the 3-0 shutout to other outstanding mound chores which include a one-hitter, and a pair of three-hitters. The Reds eased into third place, 601 ahead of the Giants.

Giants Take Brooklyn
The New Yorkers splurged for four runs in the first frame against Brooklyn, but Les Webber relieved Rube Melton with two out and held the Ottomans the rest of the way as the Dodgers won out 7 to 6.

Al Jurisich pitched five-hit ball for the loop-leading St. Louis Cardinals, but was in hot water all the way because of five walks and three hit batsmen. Pepper Martin and Stan Musial romped far afield for sensational catches, however, and gave him a 2 to 1 win over the last-place Chicago Cubs. The Phillies-Braves game was postponed.

Bob Feller Still Pitching—For Yanks In Pacific

Cleveland's great pitcher, Bobby Feller, now a chief specialist in the U. S. N. R., is shown, left, during a baseball game on a South Pacific island. Feller's team won the game, 4 to 2, much to the enjoyment of the assembled Yanks. Feller had the bases loaded in the ninth but bore down to win the game. (International)

Demings, Sheens Win Frays

Bruderly and Lanney Hurl Top Games; Appedisian Hits Extra - Basers

Demings, spurred on by the pitching of Kenny Bruderly, continued their improved brand of softball by winning their third straight second round game, 3-1, over a stubborn Mullins outfit as Sheens won out a slugfest to defeat Paxsons, 15-0, at Centennial park yesterday.

Outstanding again for the Sheens aggregation, now tied for third place with The News and Mullins, was diminutive Jimmie Appedisian. High school junior, who laid out a pair of home runs and a red-hot triple in four times at bat. The pair of homers boosts "Sluggo" Appedisian 'way in the lead in Class A as a home-run hitter. He now has banged out four, three more than any other senior loop hitter.

Francis Lanney, still turning in his top-hurling shows, held the Paxson crew to a pair of hits. In 10 games this year, Lanney has allowed an average of only three hits a game—the best pitching average in the league.

Bruderly Wins Third
Ken Bruderly, Demings' newly-acquired hurler, won his third consecutive game against Mullins as he held them to four hits and took his share of the batting honors by doubling in the third inning to set up the two-run spurge put on by his teammates.

Demings tallied in the second inning to start the scoring and added two in the third. Mullins took advantage of an error in the fifth to nab their lone tally.

The win puts Demings in a tie for second place with the Recreation and boosts their second round chances considerably.

In the Sheen-Paxson game, the winners scored some sort of a league record by earning 14 runs in a single inning.

The big scoring-fest came in the third inning and, while holding the Paxsons scoreless for the game, Sheens picked up another tally in the sixth to make it a 15-0 whitewash.

Appedisian, by his extra base show, not only leads the league in

Nazis Seek Killers

LONDON—The Germans are experimenting on a new plan which they hope, when perfected, will lead to the discovery of persons responsible for the "mysterious" killing of German soldiers. According to Nazi experts, the eye has a striking analogy with the photographic camera, and it has been supposed that a picture might be found on the retina of a dead soldier's eyes, which in case of murder might lead to the discovery of the killer.

Two More Nipponese Airdromes Fall To Americans

ADVANCED ALLIED HEAD-QUARTERS, New Guinea, June 21.—Two more Japanese airdromes on Biak island were in American hands today, giving the Allies four airdromes on the Schouten Islands, off the Dutch New Guinea north coast, from which warplanes soon may attack the Philippines.

Yank infantrymen, aided by tanks and artillery, drove the Japanese from nearby ridges yesterday, then advanced almost unopposed onto Sedro and Borokoe airstrips.

The fields more than a mile apart, are within four miles of Biak's largest airstrip. Mokmer captured June 7 and used by the Allies the past week.

Five miles south of Biak, on the tiny OWI island, the Americans have built another airfield.

These four fields, close to the equator, are about 800 miles from the Philippines and a like distance from Yap in the Carolines, Celebes east of Borneo, Timor in the Netherlands East Indies and Darwin, Australia.

American construction crews hastened to put into operation both Borokoe, which the Japanese never quite got ready to use, and Sorido, also in bad shape. The Allies now occupy most of the flat southeastern half of Biak which is suitable for airstrips.

Headquarters announced today that Boston attack planes, operating possibly from Mokmer or OWI, attacked enemy shipping off Manokwari, Dutch New Guinea, 135 miles to the west, Monday, and sank a 1,000-ton freighter, a small coastal vessel and four barges at a cost of one plane.

Liberators from the Admiralty Islands dropped 39 tons of bombs on Truk in the Carolines without encountering interception or anti-aircraft fire.

Infantrymen, Air-Borne Troops Voted Pay Boost

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 21.—Extra pay for infantrymen and glider-borne troops was voted today by the house military committee after it heard an off-the-record eulogy of G. I. Joes by one of their leaders on a fighting front.

The committee approved legislation to give "expert infantrymen" engaged in combat duty a pay boost of $10 monthly, those not in combat an additional $5 and members of glider units the same 50 per cent pay increase now given paratroopers.

Major Gen. Miller G. White read a letter in support of the bill from a front-line commander commending Uncle Sam's foot-soldiers.

At their own request, the Marines were excluded from provisions of the legislation.

Col. J. W. Knighton, representing the Marine corps, said in a statement filed with the committee that the bill singles out one arm of the service, the infantry, to the detriment of other arms engaged in equally hazardous jobs. To apply it to the Leathernecks, he added, would "tend to destroy a sense of unity which is a valuable military asset to the corps."

Well, Free the Man!

NEW YORK, June 21.—Pfc. Eunice Shepard of the Marine corps women's reserve and Danbury, Conn., reporting for duty after completing boot training, entered headquarters, peered intently about the room where eight Marines sat at desks.

Snapping to attention: "Sir," she said, "I joined the Marines to free a man to fight. Who's leaving?"

Drunken Driver Jailed

LISBON, June 20.—John Barrett, Chestnut st., arrested Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Howard Clark and Sheriff George Hayes on a charge of drunken driving, pleaded guilty when arraigned before Judge Joel Sharp and was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail and had his drivers license suspended for 12 months.

Early in the 19th century, the center of the tea industry shifted from China to India, Ceylon and the Netherlands East Indies.

Court Frees Man Sent To Asylum 11 Years Ago

LANSING, Mich.—The Michigan Supreme court has freed a man confined 11 years in a state insane asylum without proper authority.

The court ordered release of George E. Buck of St. Joseph county, from Kalamazoo State Hospital for the Insane after considering a writ of habeas corpus filed in behalf of the patient. The court held Buck was committed Dec. 9, 1933, "without taking proper evidence or full investigation of the facts."

Bomb Scare Subsides

ELYRIA, June 21.—This city was back to normal today after residents were told the "bomb" which dropped from a plane was a non-explosive wind testing instrument.

The device, identified through its flanges by William Gibbons of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics at Cleveland, crashed through a garage roof. Elyrians became alarmed when "two bomb fuses" and "something which looked like a bomb fuse" were unearthed.

LISBON, June 21.—Earl Little of Lisbon, indicted by the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny, today entered a plea of guilty and was placed on five years probation by Judge Joel Sharp.

Tentative Approval Given To Pay Hikes For State Officials

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, June 21.—The State Salary Study commission yesterday tentatively recommended pay increases ranging up to nearly 100 per cent for top Ohio officials.

Proposals of the commission, headed by State Senator John P. Stephenson, East Liverpool Republican, will be submitted to the legislature next year. Stephenson said final recommendations would not be made for several weeks. All offices affected are elective.

Largest increase recommended was a $5,500 pay jump for the attorney general, bringing his salary to $12,000 a year compared with $6,500 at present.

Current salaries and new pay schedules recommended by the commission for other state officials are:
Governor, $10,000 and $15,000; auditor of state, $6,500 and $10,000; secretary of state, $6,500 and $10,000 with enactment of a provision eliminating fees from conservancy districts; lieutenant governor, $3,500 and $5,000; chief justice, $12,500 and $13,500; supreme court judges, $12,000 and $13,000; members of the state senate and house of representatives, $2,000 and $2,500.

The commission took no action on a proposal to provide uniform pay of $12,000 per year, coming entirely from the state, for all district court of appeals judges. The state now provides $6,000 annually for each judge, and counties provide additional amounts based on population, with a maximum of $12,000 total salary.

Another proposal on which the commission failed to act was a request from the Ohio Civil Service Employees association urging 50 per cent salary increases for state employees. Charles C. Core, employees association representative who submitted the recommendation to the commission, said he expected the commission to consider it at a later date.

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, June 21.—Culminating an intensive campaign which carried him into 34 states, Gov. John W. Bricker leaves for Chicago late tonight to launch his final drive for the presidential nomination at the Republican national convention opening Monday.

Encouraged by reports of substantial gains in the contest for delegates during pre-convention maneuvering, the governor's campaign managers at his Chicago headquarters evinced optimism over Bricker's chance of winning the nomination.

Accompanying the governor will be Mrs. Bricker, Robert L. Barton, the governor's secretary, and Mrs. Barton, John W. Galbreath, the governor's campaign manager and treasurer, and Mrs. Galbreath.

Members of Bricker's advance guard who opened the governor's presidential headquarters in Chicago several days ago include Chairman Roy D. Moore, Hugh Huntington, former treasurer of the Ohio Republican central and executive committees; Don H. Ebright, state treasurer, chief of the governor's field force of contact men; Ed D. Schorr, Republican state chairman and chairman of the Ohio delegation; A. A. Hoopling, head of the governor's publicity organization, and Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus, who is serving as the governor's traffic director.

FRIEND AND FOE LIE ALIKE IN DEATH

AMERICAN AND GERMAN DEAD lie sheeted and blanketed, row on row in a Normandy field, awaiting temporary burial in the soil of France for which in life they fought. The scene is in the beachhead area back of the zone where many battles were merging into one as the struggle for possession of the Cherbourg peninsula approached its climax. Official U. S.
